AND THREE FAMOUS SPEAKERS... SOUND LIKE AN IMPOSSIBLE DREAM?

Editorial Staff

Time is quickly running out for you to realize the not-so-impossible dream of a life-time. Of course, we're talking about the MPI Advanced Weeklong Seminar in Maui, February 26-March 2.

The seminar "event of the year" will feature guest speakers, Dr. Scott Haldeman who has developed a lecture series for Maui on "Current Concepts in the Theory and Management of Patients With Spinal Pain"; Dr. Keith Jeffers, "The Running Doctor"; Dr. John Lowe acknowledged expert on Myofascial Therapy; and for the spouse/guest program "The Communications Wizard," Mr. Doug Gross, certified specialist in Neuro-Linguistic Programming.

Even more good news is the MPI Advanced Weeklong Seminar in Maui will be worth an approximate 20 hours of license renewal credits, including three hours of x-ray. Not only is our seminar program sure to be exciting; our special land package (which includes the seminar) is too good to pass up. The Land Package includes an ocean view room for six nights at the Sheraton Maui (including tax), portorage, welcome cocktail party, farewell dinner-dance and the MPI Advanced Seminar, all for the low price of $1,049 per person, doctor and spouse/guest on a double-occupancy basis. This unbelievable price is only $100 more than two years ago!

For lovers of sun and surf, the Sheraton Maui Hotel is unrivaled in its location and luxury. Actually it holds the most impressive position on Kaanapali Beach. The unique hotel structure is dramatically couched among the huge natural lava rock formations that rise more than 80 feet above the beach. Guests enjoy a tropical garden atmosphere where a list of amenities for your convenience and comfort abound.

At the Sheraton Maui and its adjoining properties one can enjoy two freshwater swimming pools; three laykold tennis courts and pro shop; two 18-hole golf courses; gift and specialty shops; parking; beauty salon and barber shop; valet service and guest laundromat; table tennis and shuffleboard facilities; three miles of white sandy beaches; water sport facilities (sailing, scuba, windsurfing, snorkeling, etc.); horseback riding; and in-room food and beverage service.

Sheraton Maui offers the best in showcase dining and entertainment. Whether one chooses to dine in the Discovery Room, which sits atop Black Rock with spectacular views of the entire Kaanapali coastline and the nearby islands of Molokai and Lanai, or Black Rock Terrace, a delightful open-air informal restaurant the cuisine and entertainment is first class, Hawaiian-style. A favorite of most visitors is the Sundowner Bar which provides a great place to sip tropical drinks and watch the famous torchlighting and legendary cliff diving ceremony held each evening.

The legend of the cliff divers began when Kahekili, the last king of Maui, was seeking a dramatic way to rekindle the flagging spirits of his men, battle-weary from rebuffing invasion attempts by Kalaniopu'u (high chief of the island of Hawaii). Kahekili chose the promontory of Black Rock because it was revered as uhane-lele, the leaping point into the ancestral spirit land. His warriors believed that only a man of great spiritual strength could leap into that world and escape without harm. The legend continues to thrill guests today, as the pu-kani (conch shell) blows its gathering song and a malo-clad youth lights the evening torches before he leaps into the sea.
