

Your Dynamic Chiropractic

ONLINE READER SURVEY LETS YOU REDESIGN THE PUBLICATION

Editorial Staff

Dynamic Chiropractic is considered the news source for the chiropractic profession. Here's your chance to make it even better.

DC is giving readers the chance to communicate exactly what type of news and information they'd like to see in the publication. We're creating an online reader survey program that will allow readers to rate various elements of the publication, including the type of news we report on, the columnists who write for us (and the topics they cover), and the publication's overall scope and design. By completing this 10-question survey, you can help decide the content of future issues of the publication.

To participate in the survey, send your e-mail address to 2003survey@mpamedia.com. In January, you'll receive a link to the survey that allows you to participate in this exciting process. Readers whose e-mail addresses are already on file will also be given an opportunity to complete the survey.

The deadline to submit your e-mail address is Dec. 20, 2003. Don't miss this unique opportunity to help make Dynamic Chiropractic your publication.
